Development grants

I have raised over €1.2 million from philanthropic organisations, corporates, and private individuals for development activities in western Kenya. As grant holder, I have co-managed the development programmes, ensuring accountability to beneficiaries and donors. The development activities have, amongst others, provided education and social protection to over 1000 orphaned and vulnerable children and strengthened the capacity of 30 communities to protect and safeguard the needs of children at risk.

MSc thesis supervision

Every year I supervise around five empirically based dissertations for final year students. The students come from a variety of degree programmes, and work on a diverse set of topics. Most seek to conduct qualitative research. At UCPH, I have supervised 26 thesis students across five study programmes.

My full teaching portfolio can be obtained upon request.
